

Declaration of Conformity

1. AHK Kabeltechnik GmbH (AHK) confirms that the manufactured and delivered products comply with the legal terms and conditions applicable in Germany.
For deliveries to other EU states, AHK confirms, in addition to the legal terms and conditions applicable in Germany, compliance with EU directives whose implementation period has expired, and which have not yet been implemented in Germany by the time of delivery, if and to the extent that they have been implemented at the place of delivery or are directly applicable there. AHK is required to comply with further legal terms and conditions in other EU states, only if the Customer has notified AHK of these prior, before signing the contract and AHK has confirmed their applicability at least in text form.
For deliveries to non-EU countries (third countries), in addition to the legal terms and conditions applicable in Germany, or in deviation therefrom, AHK complies with the legal terms and conditions applicable for the products in the country of destination if the Customer has notified AHK of all relevant provisions prior to signing the contract and AHK has expressly confirmed their applicability at least in text form.
The absence of a corresponding express confirmation in text form shall be regarded equal to a rejection of any requirements of the Purchaser.
2. In addition, in case of a corresponding explicit written request by the Purchaser, before signing the contract, voluntary compliance with the following requirements is confirmed:
  - Information of the purchaser about substances to be declared according to GADSL (Global Automotive Declarable Substance List);
  - Information and disclosure requirements to the purchaser under the Dodd Franc Act §1502 (conflict minerals);
  - Information obligations towards the purchaser, regarding substances that must be declared or are prohibited in accordance with California Proposition 65 (1986)
  - Substances according Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) are not intentionally used and are not known to be present in AHK products
3. Further confirmation regarding compliance with regulations, codes, legal terms and conditions or guidelines that are not applicable to the contractual relationship or will only become effective in the future are not given. These are no part of the contract- unless expressly agreed upon in text form.
4. Contractual agreements on quality and specifications regarding the products between AHK and the Customer remain unaffected.

With best regards.
